GP 102 : English II

Course Title	English
Course Code	GP 102
Course Credit	3
Course Status	Core
Prerequisite	None
Synopsis	The objective of this course is to improve the communication skills to use effectively in the students' academic or professional career.
Intended learning outcomes (ILO)	By the end of this course, students should be able to: 1.) Write various types of scientific discourse using the language effectively. 2.) Read and comprehend academic texts and improve vocabulary. 3.) Produce a comprehensive note while listening to lectures. 4.) Communicate effectively through technical presentations.

Week	Topics
1	Introduction to Transitional Devices in scientific writing
	Exercises based on Transitional Devices
2	Reading passages related to Transitional Devices
	Speech Activity
3	Listening Activity based on Transitional Devices
	Reading Activity
	Documentary Video
4	Comparatives and Superlatives
	Listening and writing exercises on comparatives
5	Listening Activity
	Writing exercise and presentation based on the listening activity
6	Reading Activity
	Writing Activity- Comparisons
7	Reading- Practice Test
	Reading Assessment
	Introduction to Presentations
8	Writing the Introduction of an Essay
	Related Listening & Reading Activities
9	Reading Activity followed by related Documentary (Hubble Telescope)
	Presentation Preparation
10	Listening Assessment – Practice Test
	Listening Assessment
	Speech Activity
11	Writing Assessment - Practice Test
	Writing Assessment
	Introduction to Graph Interpretation
12	Introduction to Graph Interpretation – Related Activities
13	Introduction to Graph Interpretation – Related Activities Cont.
14	Reading Activity followed by Documentary (Time Travel)
	Speech Activity (based on Time Travel)
15	Discussion – Assessment Tests
	Revision

Teaching - Learning Approach		Contact hours per semester
	Continuous Assessment	40%
	End-Semester Examination	60%
Assessment	Total	100%